

Dr. Eris Zeqo, is a lecturer in the Department of Computer Science, Faculty of Information Technology, “Aleksandër Moisiu” University of Durrës. He graduated from the Faculty of Natural Science, University of Tirana with an Integrated Second Level Degree in Informatics (2009) and obtained his PhD in Finance and Accounting Department, Faculty of Business, 'Aleksandër Moisiu" University of Durrës (2017). He also graduated with a PT Bachelor Degree (2009) and MSc. Degree (2011) in Management from the Faculty of Economy and Agribusiness, Agriculture University of Tirana. He started as a part time lecturer (2010-2012) in the Department of Computer Science, Faculty of Information Technology, “Aleksandër Moisiu” University of Durrës and he is a full time member of the academic staff of this department since 2012. Since 2015 he has been appointed as vice Dean of the Faculty of Information Technology. He has authored several research papers in international/national Conference/journals and several books and teaching materials in the field of databases. He also has been part on many national and international projects like Tempus, Interreg, Erasmus Plus etc.